“Companies with effective production planning processes achieved a 20% increase in production output and a 30% reduction in inventory holding costs compared to their counterparts with less efficient planning systems.”

- Aberdeen Group
What is agility?

Quickly make decisions balancing efficiency and responsiveness
Definition: What agility means at the plant level

Efficiency mindset: PROTECT the plant from shocks via inventory, capacity & supplier policies

Responsiveness mindset: ABSORB shocks from supply disruptions and adapt to changing demand

Emerging mindset: Efficient whenever possible, Responsive when necessary
In the future, efficient planning and scheduling will be at the heart of every successful manufacturing operation.
What is resilience?

Being able to quickly react to factors outside of your plan.

Having buffers in your system.
How?
Enable integrations with your existing systems and provide a seamless data flow between systems.
Get Data from Critical Systems

Scheduling (APS)
Visualize Data to Make Decisions
Virtuous Cycle

Risk management

Employee empowerment

Data-driven decisions

Efficiency and productivity

Cost savings

Customer satisfaction

Optimized Scheduling
Illes seasonings and Flavors increase in sales by 20% over past 24 months

Challenge
• Products requiring multiple resources
• Product mix: allergens, religious dietary laws, FSMA
• Increased clerical workload in planning department
• Not enough time for proactive planning

Solution
• Deployed PlanetTogether

Results
• Before, it took hours to schedule; now it takes seconds.
• Communication improved between planners and departments.
• Better response time for instances such as expedited production, order change, and capacity availability requests.
It all comes down to data

Enable integrations with your existing systems and provide a seamless data flow
